SOUTH AFRICAN NATIONS TAKE THE WAR PATH

Several Police Killed in Clashes With Rebels--Want Full Citizenship Rights

Pietermaritzburg, Natal, Feb. 9.—There is every indication that trouble of the most serious nature has commenced among the colored population of South Africa, and a native rising of stupendous proportions is feared. An effort was made to collect poll tax from the natives near Richmond, and a clash with the officials occurred. Armed natives resisted the collection of the tax, and in the ensuing fight an inspector of police and a trooper were wounded with spears. While a body of fourteen mounted police were proceeding to the scene of the trouble the party was ambushed and six policemen were killed. Their bodies have been picked up by reinforcements. From Capetown it is reported that the demands of the colored population have become most insistent. Natives of the Transvaal and Orange River colony want full political rights. The African colored political association, representing all South Africa, is preparing a monster petition to King Edward, asking for all the political rights enjoyed by the whites, which will be presented in London by a delegation of colored men from South Africa.

PRES. CASTRO RAISES TROOPS

Venezuelan President Preparing for a Struggle With France.

Waleinstadt, Caracas, Feb. 9.—President Castro is busily engaged in enlisting throughout Venezuela, and is in other ways preparing for war. Generals in each state have been commissioned and orders have been given to call recruits to the colors. Information from the best sources indicates that the people do not support Castro. On all sides are heard expressions of a desire to revolt and overthrow the president's government as soon as the French blockade is declared. It is doubted whether Castro can raise more than 16,000 men who will take the field with any show of spirit.

WRECK AT VIRDEN
Virden, Feb. 9.—A head on collision occurred here yesterday. A freight train from the east had arrived at Virden and was standing at the station when a strain from the west was due. The air brakes refused to act. Both engines were badly damaged and several cars were piled up. Everything is being done to clear the main line. No one was hurt. A great number of the cars are damaged but traffic will not be interfered with.

FARMERS' MARKET

With the exception of wheat the Edmonton market closed this week decidedly stronger and firm in tone. Oats are going up steadily. Deliveries were brisk on the farmers' market today, but heretofore there has been very little oats coming in.

What is down two cents. Hay is going up, due purely to short delivery and local demand.

Coal is steady and deliveries good.

The following are the prices quoted on the farmers' market—

Oats, milling, 27c to 28c.

Feed 25 to 27c.

Hay, slough, 37c to 58.

Upland, $3 to $11.

Timothy, $14 to $15.

Coal, $3.50.

CITY PLANS FOR STREET RAILWAY

Commissioners Will Have Something to Say Before the Council at First Full Meeting.

Acting on instructions issued by the council some three weeks ago, the city engineer's department has been busily engaged ever since on plans for the three miles of street railway line which it is proposed to build during the coming summer, and by the time of the first meeting after the Mayor and Aldermen who are now in Chicago return the plans will be ready to submit to the council. So far the departmental heads will give nothing out for publication, and the plans will not be known until they are placed before the council.

SPLEIN NEARS THE END
Calgary, Feb. 9.—The Alberta Alumni Association of Queens University was formed here tonight. Following are the officers: Hon. President, Rev. G. Ferguson; Dr. Laferty; vice presidents, Rev. J. Short, Dawington, Rev. J. Ferguson, Didsbury, George Brown, Calgary; Secretary, Dr. Gibson.

The Calgary bison is rapidly getting down to the close. In the grand challenge, Brown of Medicine Hat, defaulted, leaving Savage in the finals and Palmer and Smith in the semi-finals. The brewery is grown down to the eighties with Savage, Freeze and Young of Calgary, Patterson, of Pridis, Ullock of Golden, Campbell of Edmonton, Pingle of Medicine Hat, and Taylor of Maple Creek still in. The other contests are all progressing favorably.

PARDEE WILL MOVE ADDRESS
Ottawa, Feb. 9.—Mr. F. F. Pardee, M.P. for West Lambton, who was recently elected at a bye-election, has been selected to move the address in reply to the speech from the throne at the opening of the coming session of the House of Commons. This will be Mr. Pardee's second effort of this kind as in 1899 he moved the address in the Provincial Legislature of Ontario, having been elected at the general election of 1898, to represent West Lambton in that body. Mr. Pardee is an excellent public speaker, and his effort in the House of Commons will be quite up to that of his predecessor.

FROST & WOOD
Smith Falls, Ont., Feb. 9.—The larger portion of Frost & Wood's plant was destroyed by fire today. The machine shop with all machinery, carpenter shop, contents and paint shop are a mass of smoking ruin. The blacksmith shop was badly damaged. The fire started in the dry kilns and got a headway before being discovered and a dozen streams were played on it with no effect. The loss while heavy is covered by insurance. The moulding shop with all the valuable patrons was unharmed.

Kelly & Beals the local agents of Frost & Wood Co., have received no intimation regarding the fire which wiped out the factory at Smith Falls, and they do not know yet how it will effect the proposition to build a warehouse in this city, but expect that the warehouse will be put back in consequence.

KILLED BY FALLING TREE
(Wetaskiwin Times)

On Friday afternoon last the citizens of the town were shocked to learn that Knut C. Berge, of Coal Lake, one of the best known and highly esteemed farmers of the Wetaskiwin district, had met with an accident that suddenly terminated his earthly career. He was engaged in felling trees only a few rods from his house. One of the trees in falling lodged in another. When the deceased cut the second tree he was caught by the limbs of the first and the ground. Both legs were broken, the right one in two places. Several ribs of the right side were broken and he was otherwise badly injured. He lived only three hours after the accident, when death relieved him of his awful suffering.

Mr. Berge, was aged 49 years, 2 months and 3 days, being born in Wang, Walers, Norway, in 1856.

He leaves a sorrowing wife and five daughters, namely Dina, Paulina, Mary, Clara and Ruth, to mourn the loss of a kind and affectionate husband, and loving father.

The deceased was a hard working and industrious man, and his sudden loss will be keenly felt not only by the members of the family, but by the entire vicinity. He was held in the highest respect by all who knew him.

BURNED IN THEIR HOME

Husband and Wife Perish in the Flames—Child Rescued.

Glenboro, Man., Feb. 9.—Mr. and Mrs. Schwedfeger, living ten miles north of Glenboro were burned to death last night and a young Englishman, 18 years of age managed to get out with only his shirt on. Mrs. Schwedfeger with great presence of mind threw the only child, two years of age, out of the window, and was in the act of getting out herself when the floor gave way and she and her husband went down to their awful death. Seeing that nothing could be done the young man took the baby and wrapped it in a horse blanket and placed it in a horse manger while he rode nearly a mile without any clothing to Mr. Wiggett's, the nearest neighbor. The young fellow was badly frozen and his hands are burnt. Mr. Wiggett drove into town and took out Coroner Reeve and a provincial constable, who removed the remains from the cellar.

KILLED IN A SANDPIT

Winnipeg, Feb. 9.—S. N. Henderson was instantly killed while working in his sand pit yesterday afternoon. He was about eleven feet below the surface when a portion of the top gave in crushing his skull.

PASTOR SUICIDES

Chicago, Feb. 9.—Rev Justin G. Wade, pastor of the First Congregational church of Waukegan, Illinois, who was arrested for sending obscene letters through the mails, committed suicide today by throwing himself in front of a train.

WESTERN RHODES' SCHOLAR

Kingsland, Feb. 9.—Austin M. Bothwell, M. A., of Perth and a graduate of Queen's university, last spring, has received word from the Rhodes' scholarship committee that he has been chosen Rhodes scholar for Saskatchewan and Alberta.

NORTH RANGE DEAL OFF

Toronto, Feb. 9.—The Dominion Government has dropped the negotiations for the purchase of several thousand acres in Pine Plains, Simcoe County, for a new military camp in place of Niagara. Farmers doubled, trebled or quadrupled prices. The Government are now surveying a site within 25 miles of Toronto.

RUSSIAN INDUSTRIES TAXED

St. Petersburg, Feb. 8.—New taxes on commercial undertakings in Russia have been created by an imperial decree today. Henceforth all concerns are required by law to publish periodic reports and will be taxed 3 to 14 per cent of their net profits when it exceeds three per cent on the capital.

If the profit is over twenty per cent a tax of ten per cent will be imposed. Directors and managers will be taxed 1 to 7 per cent of their salaries.

MANITOBA'S PUBLIC WORKS

Winnipeg, Feb. 9.—The report of the Public Works Department was laid on the table of the House this afternoon and is a comprehensive record of operations for the year 1905. The total amount of land benefited by drainage systems is set down at 1,113,872 acres, with a drain mileage of 873 miles. Assistance has been given to municipalities during the year. Twenty-one large bridges were built, and in addition many smaller bridges were constructed.

The reports from the various public institutions are of a satisfactory nature. Only fifty-seven persons were admitted to the Selkirk asylum in 1905 as against 121 in 1904.

EMERSON SCHOOL BURNED

Emerson, Man., Feb. 9.—The public school here burned to the ground; loss $10,000, insurance $4,500. The fire originated in the basement. Owing to the distance from the fire hall and the extremely cold weather, the hose was frozen and it was found impossible to use the engine. The janitor sat stoking the fires when he noticed smoke issuing from the floor.

The school was a brick one and was one of the finest in the west. All the children's books were burned as was also a fine library which was erected four years ago. The fire started from an overheated pipe from the furnace in the basement. Nothing was saved and only the stone foundation is standing.

TO FIRE ON FRENCH SHIPS

Passengers on the Red Diamond steamer Philadelphia, from New York, January 26, and La Guaira, Venezuela, which arrived at the island of Curacao from the latter port, report that President Castro is making every possible war preparation. They add that orders have been issued to fire on the first French war vessel sighted cruising in Venezuelan waters. President Castro, it is asserted, regards the whole French movement as a "bluff," and says he "will not be blinded" and will retaliate by prohibiting the importation of French goods into Venezuela.

On Monday morning the senior Thistle hockey team leave on their trip east. On Monday evening they play in Calgary with the seniors. They also play in Regina, Portage, la Prairie and Winnipeg, and on their return trip they will play in Brandon, Moose Jaw and Medicine Hat.

The Thistles are going to run up against some hard propositions on the trip but the team that will carry Edmonton's colors broad should be able to treat their eastern friends to exhibitions of the national game that will make them sit up and take notice.

The first team that is likely to give Edmonton boys a hard run is the Regina seven. This aggregation is about as fast a bunch as there is playing hockey. J. Kain is in goal and J. Patton plays point. At cover is George Carmichael, who accompanied the Regina team to Brandon seven years ago, when they held the whirlwind of the wheat city down to a score of 4-3. Playing rover is Art Smith, who fluoresced with the Winnipeg Rowing Club team last winter, and was captain of Wm. Wesley college seven. The right wing man is J. G. McLaughlin, and the left wing H. D. McPherson. At centre is L. A. Arnold, who is one of the surest shots in the west today. Four of the team, Carmichael, McLaughlin, Arnold and Smith, are home players, born and brought up to the game in Regina.

The Hudson's Bay Country

(Winnipeg Free Press).

Owing to the failing out of Major Moodie and Capt. Bernier at the outset of the expedition of the steamer Arctic to Hudson's bay that voyage did not produce the results which the Dominion government had a right to expect from it. However, Major Moodie confirms the reports of Lieut Gordon, of the Alert expedition of 1858, and of Capt. Wakeham of the Diana expedition of 1897 to the effect that Hudson's bay and straits are navigable from the end of June to the end of October and that wintering parties in that country find life very easy.

To this general information the report of the geological survey department just published adds the result of valuable scientific observation conducted in that country by Commander A. P. Low, who accompanied the Neptune expedition of 1903-4.

The general result of the observations, which were conducted under several disadvantages, is that even the barrenest part of the Hudson's bay basin is not devoid of local resources as some would have us believe. Besides hunting experiences in chasing the walrus, the white bear and the whale, the explorers found many traces of minerals of economic value.

In a bay 20 miles east of Blackhead island, off the territory of Franklin, exploration revealed junk medium-grained granite interbedded with gray mica and mica horn blended. It places the dark mica-gneiss containing flashes of graphite; hence the name of the island. To the westward of this island prospecting had been done on some deposits of mica and pyrite, but, under existing difficulties, these proved unprofitable.

Sailing towards Chesterfield Inlet the Neptune found the valleys filled everywhere with lakes and ponds and hardy grasses which afforded excellent pasture to large bands of barren-ground caribou. In former times its pasturage supplied food to similar herds of musk-ox that, being too closely hunted, have retired to the more inaccessible country to the westward of the head of Wager Inlet.

The Neptune, like the Arctic, wintered at Fullerton. No opportunity was afforded to search for minerals on these shores, but furs were abundant, and on Southampton island in the spring the explorers found a fair growth of grasses which were the breeding grounds of many species of birds, including the whistling swan, snow goose, Hutchins king eider duck, long tailed duck, blue crane, golden plover, red breasted phalarope, Sabine gull and Arctic tern. It will easily be seen that all this constitutes resources which would be of commercial value with proper transportation facilities.

The Eskimos of the Arctic coast make their living by hunting deer, caribou and musk-ox and by fishing. The Neptune found five ships engaged in the Baffin bay fishery. They had caught nine whales and two boats sent up a small river caught 5,000 pounds of fine Arctic salmon within an hour.

Speaking of the topography of the region the report says: "An abundance of Arctic plants gave evidence of a marked improvement in the climate in comparison with that bordering on Lancaster Sound" (this refers to Pond's Inlet). Lignite was found on the shores and islands of Birch lake the best timber occurs. That on the branches of the Severn river is generally small.

Beyond the Hudson Bay post at Lac Seul no farming of any kind was done. At that lake potatoes and other hardy vegetables were grown although on the height of lands frosts may be expected at any time. A Crane Indian chief, however, cultivated potatoes regularly at Lake Windigo, in 53° north latitude, and his race are not generally the most painstaking of agriculturists. "A great part of the country, says the report, is either too rocky or swampy for agricultural purposes, but there are portions particularly in the large belt of Huronian rocks, and in some parts of the valley of the Cedar river, where the land is dry and the rocks are covered with a clay soil that is good enough to raise some of the harder vegetables.

TO ADVERTISE THE CITY

A publication advertising the resources and prospects of the community has come to be regarded as an annual event in the life of nearly every progressive western town. While the literature issued by the Immigration Department is usually excellent it is of necessity of a general nature and designed to represent the resources of the country as a whole rather than those of any district in particular. The Western Canada Immigration association has done good work in securing the publication of descriptive articles of different sections of the country in widely read journals across the line. Such means however, still leave untouched the sphere which can be filled by an attractive souvenir setting forth the advantage of a special community.

The policy was adopted by the city council last year turning over to the board of trade the conduct of the annual publicity campaign and the publication of special Edmonton literature comes within the duties of that body. A pamphlet was issued by the board last year and while the results were not immediately noticeable they were very real and very considerable, sufficiently so to indicate that the effort was directed along the right line and to warrant the belief that a continuance of the work would have equally satisfactory results. It is interesting therefore to learn that the Board now has in contemplation the publication of a booklet along the same general lines as last year's pamphlet and of probably wider scope and larger issue.

The proposal is timely. To be effective literature must be issued in time to allow opportunity for thorough circulation before the time the returns are expected to come in. Immigration literature requires time to germinate and generally the results of a year's effort into this direction are not apparent until the following season.

It might be well born in mind in this connection that the Dominion fair will be held in Halifax in September and a splendid opportunity thus offered for circulating such publication among the people of the Maritime Provinces and the New England States. These portions of the continent at the present time possess the largest amount of capital seeking investment and the national exhibition will doubtless draw multitudes of them to the seaboard city. The distribution there of fitting souvenirs should result in interesting the capitalists and manufacturers in the opportunities offered them in Edmonton and the Edmonton district.

CURRENT COMMENT

The critically-inclined are just about convinced that the new city hall is a dumb-bell.

Pincher Creek Echo: "Such a spectacle as the Provincial Rights Convention in Saskatchewon has not before been seen in Canada." Quite right and the "spectacle" was not a circumstance.

The Toronto News continues to strain for a record as a journalistic incubus. Its latest proposal is to build a fire under Belleville's police department—fire of dimension we presume. There is probably a grit on the force.

A Hamilton exchange is fearful lest the industrial development of Ottawa may destroy the dignified appearance of the national capital. If the artistic easterners are really shocked by the prospect the capital might be brought further west where aesthetic susceptibilities are less tender.

The Winnipeg Telegram opines that the present Government is "the weakest Government Canada has ever been cursed with." What the Telegram thinks of the opposition which is licked by the "weakest Government" on every occasion offered we are not informed.

Prince Albert Times: "People would come from far and near to see the provincial parliament buildings on Prince Albert Hill, while they would not go two miles to see them hidden on Regina's prairie or Saskatoon's knoll." If the Saskatchewan Government have any sense this reflects of things thin should settle it. Why should Prince Albert's hill go uncrowned while the stately pile is used to fill up a decivity in the prairies?

LAND VALUES IN EDMONTON

Editor of Bulletin:

Sir: As a recent arrival from the city of Toronto, I would be pleased if you would allow me a small space in your valuable columns to express what I might call a pleasing disappointment of this city.

Very many Torontonians have the impression that this city is made up largely of Indians, Doukhobors, Galicians and the poorer classes of European countries, with little or no education and a low standard of intelligence.

Those impressions were arrived at by certain cartoons and editorials in Toronto papers during the recent Provincial elections. One has only to spend a few hours of an afternoon on the main thoroughfare and observe the intelligent faces and the energy of the business man, to convince him that the above impression is but the pipe-dream of some writer who never was in sunny Alberta or the like city.

It is even difficult to imagine what the present century has in store for Edmonton situated as it is in the centre of a very fertile district. Its beautiful climate, its golden opportunity for the best drainage and sanitary conditions of any western city, and the future capital of the Old Garden of Eden, sunny Alberta.

There is however one serious drawback existing in this city which every citizen should fight against, if they wish this city to thrive, viz: a false speculative and inflated value in land, which will retard many people and tradesmen with limited means from coming here.

We had a land boom in Toronto some fifteen years ago and when it broke it ruined homes and families and it is only within the last three years that Toronto has gained its normal condition. Citizens beware of land booms.

I have been asked to report to several Toronto tradesmen on the conditions here and especially for a brick and cement works, as to climate, fertility of soil, beautiful scenery and educational facilities, words fail me to express my delight and appreciation of such, but on the other hand I feel that I would be false to the confidence of my clients if I did not call their attention to a wild speculation boom existing in land at present which may retard a large immigration of moderate means who may drift somewhere else to the city's sacrifice.

Hoping to have not trespassed on your space I remain yours respectfully, JOHN GALBRAITH

PURCHASED LUMBER YARD

The Cushing Bros. Lumber Company has purchased and taken over the lumber business formerly conducted by the Northern Coal and Lumber Company at their yard on Seventh Street, and intend to immediately place an extensive stock of lumber there from which to supply the trade in the west end of the city. The new yard will be under the general management of Fred W. Irving, sales manager for the company and the yard man will be J. R. MacKenzie, who recently arrived from Nova Scotia.

Cushing Bros. have recently made some very large preparations for the summer trade in the Edmonton district. Besides having placed an order for 350,000 feet of British Columbia lumber with the Winlaw Lumber Co., Sloane River, they also enlarged to almost double the former capacity of the plant here and they have made large extensions to the buildings. They will be in a position to handle considerably over twice the business that they could have handled last year.

ORGANIZATION MEETING IN SARON

The Alberta Farmers Association, with headquarters in Strathcona, advertised a meeting of the farmers in our school house, to be held Saturday evening, Jan. 27. At the appointed hour a good number of representative farmers had assembled to hear the two speakers who were connected with the organization. The meeting was called to order and F. Falkenberg voted to

The first speaker called on was Mr. D. W. Warner, president of the Alberta Farmers' Association. Mr. Warner is a farmer who came here from the state of Nebraska seven years ago, and lives on his farm three miles east of Edmonton. This gentleman explained why the farmers should be organized and why he believed that the Alberta Farmers' Association was the best suited to the people of Alberta. Mr. Warner pointed out that the majority of us received a low price for our products. Taking oats as an example, he said we were encouraged to rush our grain to market all at once, and the speculator took advantage of this and knocked the price down below what the farmer should get, and the fair price was again offered when the bulk of the grain was sold. The speaker said that the farmer does the work, the merchant is robbed of his trade, and the speculator made the money. He went on to say that it would be of great advantage to the farmers to meet at regular times and talk over their affairs, and learn from each other how best to grow and market their crops and how best to buy the things they need.

The enthusiasm of the meeting made it clear that all present desired an organization of some kind.

Mr. Warner proceeded to show that the Alberta Farmers' Association was the best thing of the kind offered to the people of this country. He said the Territorial Grain Growers' Association, with headquarters at Indian Head, had failed to meet the wants of the people of this new province of Alberta.

The headquarters were too far away and it could do nothing to help the farmer with his hogs, beef, butter and eggs, and could never be of much use except to the farmer who lived further east, and could ship his grain to Winnipeg. One other organization was offered to us that was the Canadian branch of the American Society of Equity. Mr. Keen was secretary and Mr. Owens was traveling organizer.

The head office of the society was in Indianapolis, Indiana, and was entirely a United States institution, with a branch on the Canadian side.

This organization, the speaker said, had good objects in view, but like the grain grower, was too far away and could be of little use to us while devoting so much of its time to the culture and sale of oranges, lemons, bananas, Indian corn and cotton.

Mr. Warner said that he had farmed in the United States for many years and he was sure that no Canadian society could go over to the American side and establish a branch and he believed that the people of Canada would rather support their own institution and take an honest pride in doing so. He said that the farmers of Alberta must depend on the provinces of British Columbia and the new markets of Japan and China and the farmers could take care of these only in one way, that is to all join together in an association with headquarters right here in Alberta and look after their own business.

Mr. J. Fletcher who is assisting Mr. Warner in this work, was then called on. This gentleman is a farmer living one mile south from Ellerslie. He came here three years ago from British Columbia. He claimed that according to the Vancouver market, the farmer here did not receive enough for his products, and that the merchants and tradesmen suffered as well as the farmer himself, and that the speculator took advantage of them all, and he said that he believed that all the honest and best business men of this country were in sympathy with the farmer in this movement.

He said that any farmers' organization to succeed, must treat all farmers alike. The German, the French and the English speaking people were all farmers and their religion, nationality and party politics must be left to themselves.

This speaker, a Canadian himself, said that he understood how the Dominion and provincial Governments raised their revenue. He showed how industries were organized to make the farmer pay the most of it. He said that he had considerable faith in the Territorial Grain Growers' Association, but that this organization from the United States was the worst thing that the farmers could take hold of, for two reasons. The speaker said that the Government of Canada always had maintained an Agricultural Department for the benefit of the farmers and the farmers should make use of it, but no Canadian Government could be influenced by an institution with headquarters in another country. If by any means the Government ever made an attempt to help them, the opposition, no matter which party was in power, would block the way, but an all-Canadian organization could go to Ottawa or Edmonton and say what was wanted for the Canadian farmer, and was asked for by the Canadian people, and in all reason, either the Liberals or the Conservatives would grant it.

The speaker contrasted the policy of the two organizations. In short, he said the one was commercial and suited to the present day, and the other was coercive and out of date twenty years ago. Farmers, and their nationality, their religion and party politics must be left to themselves.

The Alberta Farmers' Association could keep out of party politics. The policy of the American Society would certainly draw them into politics. The Alberta Association approached the Government in a business way, the same as the manufacturers or merchants do. No matter what political party was in power, this Association kept the Minister and Deputy Minister of Agriculture as honorary members of its central body in Strathcona. In that way it always had the Department within reach and could do business just as the farmer does business with an honest merchant, and an election could only change the man but not the relationship. In making the contrast, the speaker said that the American society had come in here and stated that they cared nothing for the Government and wanted to stay as far from it as possible. They proposed to join hundreds of thousands of farmers together and force the Government to give any legislation the society asked. If the Government satisfied it at every point all would be well. If the Government refused anything then they would call on their members to put that party out of power and put the other party in and the speaker declared that the society would be right into party politics, the very thing it pledged itself never to touch. The speaker concluded by urging the farmers to join in an all-Canadian association with headquarters at Strathcona.

President Warner then answered some questions, and the meeting arranged to organize at a future meeting and then adjourned.

THE SEED FAIR TO BE A SUCCESS

Long List of Entries—Some Farmers Will Compete in Every Class

W. F. Stevens who has the arrangements for the seed fair in hand announced yesterday that he already had absolute security that the fair would be an unqualified success. Mr. Stevens looks for at least two hundred entries and there may be many more than that. Already thirty-seven samples of seed grain have been brought in and entered and this with only a few districts heard from so far. Most of the entries will be made of course on the morning of the first day, as the lists will be open until 10 o'clock, Monday.

Mr. Stevens says that some of the farmers intend to enter for almost every prize in the calendar. Two men whom he has heard has arranged to bring in a wagon load each of samples from Clover Bar. The samples of course, do not belong entirely to the men who are bringing them in, but the intention is to make them representative of the district and try to clean out the prize list, or come somewhere near it. Other districts have also been heard from and there is no chance of Clover Bar having a walk over.

The big prize of the fair and probably the one bringing out the keenest competition will be the silver cup offered by Seton-Smith Co. for the best sample of Banner oats taken from a one thousand bushel lot for sale. The cup is on exhibition in Nankin's jewelry store window, today and it is a piece of plate worth making a contest for. The Seton Smith Co. originally offered to give a cup worth $25 but when it was seen what interest the contest was bringing out, they decided to do better than that, and the prize as it stands today cost the Red Star people $40.

One of the principal features of the fair will be the seed fair entertainment, which will take place in Robertson's hall on Tuesday night. The program has not been printed, but will be a very attractive one for farmers. There will be a long list of musical numbers, both vocal and instrumental, all of which will be supplied by the faculty of the Alberta College. Interspersed with these will be a list of 15 minute talks on agriculture by some of the best speakers in the province. Mayor May will preside, or if Mr. May is not home in time to officiate K. W. Mackenzie, the late mayor, will asked to preside. Tickets will be extended to all who exhibit at the seed fair and a number of complimentary tickets have been extended to members of the city council, of the legislature and to the board of trade. The regular admissions will be 50 cents. The following is the list of speakers and their subjects:

"Importance of Agriculture to the Province," by A. C. Rutherford; "What the Department of Agriculture is trying to do for the Farmers," by W. T. Finlay; "How the farmers can assist the Department of Agriculture," by Geo. A. Harcourt, Deputy Minister of Agriculture; "What Alberta expects from her future farmers, and their wives," John K. Boyle; "What the farmers expect of Alberta," J. Fletcher; "The independence of friendly relations between the farmers and business men," A. T. Cushing, representing the board of trade; "Farm decoration," Wm. Short; "The price of the necessities of life," J. H. Ridell, principal of Alberta College.

R. A. ROBERTSON,
Sole Agent - EdmontonTHE HUDSON'S BAY COUNTRY.

With such possibilities for farming which can no doubt be improved by skilled agriculturalists, with pulp wood and water power at hand, with sufficient timber to meet local demand, with an abundance of game and fish, the country is certainly not so worthless as it has been pictured, and in time will be capable of producing local traffic for a transportation line, even if no minerals were discovered, a thing on which the report is silent.

Another part of Keewatin was explored at the same time by Mr. Winiwis and Ottawapiskat rivers, Lake St. Joseph, followed the Winiwis and Ottawapiskat rivers, which flow a short distance north of the Albany river.

Along the Ottawapiskat he scattered over the muskeg areas; poplar, white birch, spruce and balsam pine clothe the ridges. These green forests continued south of Wiechig lakes, and in favorable situations, such as flats extending back from bays. The trees are tall, free from branches, and have diameters of from thirteen to fifteen inches at the stump. There are a number of rapids on the Ottawapiskat which might be easily harnessed. The explorer was of opinion that the soil was excellent for agricultural purposes.

Summing up the resources of the district he visited, Mr. McInnes says:

"At Fort Hope fairly clear 9-inch lumber was being sawed lumber was being sawed Babamet lake. One tree was felled that gave a log two feet thick at the butt and 100 feet long. The greater part of the forest is about 80 years old, though in places trees reaching 140 years were found. The large sandy tracts are now for the most part covered with an open growth of balsam pine. When the day comes in Canada for reforestation, these districts might be replanted with pines commercially valuable. Over large areas the spruce, apparently, would if more accessible be available for wood pulp."

Specimens of black birch were found as far north as latitude 53 degrees, 35 minutes.

At Fort Hope garden vegetables were maturing before the end of August. An Indian, who cultivated a small patch of land near the head of the north branch of the Ottawapiskat, claimed that when set in September he had a good crop of potatoes.

Crossing the southern boundary of Keewatin into that strip of Western Ontario which is also coveted by the Roblin Government, we find that Mr. W. J. Wilson explored the Little Current and Drowning Rivers, branches of the Albany, east of Lake Nipigon. The distance surveyed on this trip was nearly 500 miles of country, extending north of the C.P.R. station of Schreiber, and covering a region which is soon to be traversed by the national transcontinental.

Along the height of land north of McKoy lake the explorers found the hills covered with a thick growth of small spruce, poplar, fir, canoe birch, tamarac and cedar, while within a short distance there is a fall of 150 feet, a most suitable condition for a pulp mill. There is also large spruce, poplar, and cedar, and the soil was judged to be of excellent quality along Pagwachuan river.

Where the Grand Trunk Pacific trial line crosses this river the country is rolling and sandy hills covered with second growth balsam pine and poplar fifteen years old. The rock where the line crosses, is a mica-dioritegneiss with bands of quartzite. Two miles farther down there is a fall and portage with a drop of eighteen feet. All the way down the river is shallow, with a swift current and many rapids.

Around Eskagenaga and Wa-bumiga the explorers found some stretches of excellent soil, with spruce occurring everywhere. Along Drowning River "many of the trees are large enough for sawlogs, while the majority would make good pulp wood. They grow close together and are tall and straight, reaching a height of sixty feet or more, and carrying their size well up."

and straight, reaching a height of sixty feet or more, and carrying their size well up."

Going back towards the source of the river the forest growth was found to be larger and the land improved in quality as the Henomgi river was approached.

On the way to Abasagi and O'Sullivan lakes, Mr. Wilson found many waterfalls and timber of many grades. Above Rupert Fall, the forest is small second growth about thirty years old. Below this fall there are large areas of old spruce two feet in diameter. Further down, much of the forest is second growth of sixty or seventy years. Black ash groves are noted near the lakes, the trees being eight and ten inches in diameter. There are some areas of good agricultural land along the Kawashkagana river.

It has been reported that iron in small quantities has been found to the east of the Little Current river, below O'Sullivan lake, and it is not improbable, says Mr. Wilson, that careful prospecting in different parts of the Huronian area may reveal this and other minerals of economic importance.

Throughout the country, concludes Mr. Wilson, especially along the banks of rivers, there are areas of good clay soil, but on going away from the streams the drainage is poor, and spruce swamps are usually met with. These, however, are not continuous.

Spruce of a size sufficiently large to make sawlogs is found along the streams and around the lakes wherever old forests exist, but, unfortunately, large tracts have been burned within the last fifty years, and on these the trees are too small to be of commercial value. Spruce large enough for pulpwood grows abundantly along the streams, and often in dried swamps. The growth of this tree seems to be much slower here than in more southern latitudes and consequently the wood is firmer and more compact, consisting mostly of wood fibre, and therefore particularly well adapted for making pulp."

The information concerning the northwestern part of Ontario is completed to a certain extent by Mr. O'Sullivan, who explored the west coast of James Bay north from Moose Factory for a distance of 300 miles, following

MOCK TRIAL

The meeting of the Alberta College Literary society last night took the nature of a mock trial which was very interesting for those present. The prisoner, H. Dickson, was accused of stealing a fob and pair of dumbbells from True McCullay's room.

The presiding judge was S. Short; clerk of the court, H. McDonald, court stenographer, Misses Mooney and Ammonson; C. Tait was the prosecuting lawyer and the counsel for the defense was Mr. Gilson. The jury consisted of Mr. Wyman, foreman, F. Smith, H. Haddon, A. Shantz, O. Rhonolt, F. Lawrence. The lawyers took a long time to get their evidences in. Witnesses examined were for the prosecution, True McCullay, Lester Clarke, Mr. Bradley, Puffer, Wesley Steinhauer, G. Mooney and for the defense, Mrs. Mary McWilliams, mother of the accused, Walter Smith, Miss Anderson, Miss McHammond, Miss Mae Dora, and A. Law. At times the case was very interesting. The jury retired to a few minutes and returned, saying that they could not agree. They again retired and returned again, without result. But on one of the jury confessing that he had been bribed, the judge dismissed the jury, postponed the trial and had the remaining jurymen arrested for contempt of court.

Large Crowd Attended the Annual Event of the Willing Workers.

Over one thousand people turned out to the Thistle rink last night to enjoy one of the most brilliant carnivals that has ever been witnessed in Edmonton. It was the occasion of the annual fancy dress skating carnival of the Willing Workers Mission Band of All Saints' Church, and if crowd count for anything, if brilliant and picturesque costumes and the music of the band is taken into consideration, the affair was the most successful of the kind that has been held in the city. A large number were in costume, and the variety of the costumes was most extensive. The music of the band surpassed in quality anything that has yet been listened to at the rink.

About the prettiest feature of the evening was the maypole dance, which took place at eight o'clock. This was conducted under the direction of Mrs. Dr. Harrison and Dr. Strong, and called forth many complimentary remarks by the crowds at the sides. Those who took part were Misses H. Walker, Alice McDougall, Irene Mc Kay, G. York, Greenwood, Edna Grindley and Messrs. J. Manuel, Harold Grady, Walter Walker, John Knott, W. Wilson, C. Wilson.

At 8:30 the judging of costumes took place. The judges took up a position at the north end of the rink and after considerable hesitation owing to the great number of costumes which were worthy of prizes, the following were selected as the winners of the prizes in the various classes.

Best lady's costume, Miss Lauder; opera glass bag.
Best gentleman's costume, Mr. Grieves, safety razor.
Best comic lady's costume, Miss Hatte McKay, as a Gallican woman; silver jewel case.
Best comic gentleman's costume, Mr. Adams, shaving mirror.
Best girl's costume, over 12, Vivian Butchart as Lily; gold wallet set.
Best boy's costume over 12, Walter Purchase; gold the pin.
Best boy's comic costume, over 12, Besse Forin; box bon-bon, and lace collar.
Best boy's comic costume, over 12, Alfred Thompson, as Jester; silk necktie and gold pin.
Best girl's costume under 12, Helen Strathy as Chrysanthemum; solid gold plate.
Best boy's costume, under 12, Jimmy Emery as Jack Frost; silk handkerchief and necktie!

Best girl's comic costume under 12, Frances McKenny; bottle perfume.
Best boy's comic costume under 12, Jacob Mohr as tramp; handkerchief and $1.
For the best skaters the following secured prizes.
Best lady skater, Miss E. Lockhart, basket plants.
Best gentleman skater, Mr. Madill; box of cigars.
Best girl skater, over 12, Miss G. York; silk table cloth and card case.
Best boy skater over 12, Ben Skinner, pearl-handled knife.
Best girl skater under 12, Beatrice Saunders, bon-bons and photo album.
Best boy skater under 12, Chas. Molnar, glass and silver plate.

The judges were Mrs. Hubble, Mrs. A. H. Watt, Dr. Strong, Messrs. Frank Sommerville and R. Scoble.
The comical part of the program then took place. This was the burlesque hockey match, which made more amusement for the crowd than a whole circus. The contestants played with brooms and a large ball served as puck. The referee paraded the ice with a tin fish horn, and had the fence lined with players all through the game.
At nine o'clock the general public were permitted to join those in costume on the ice, and skating was kept up until eleven.

TO BE WELL DRESSED

is to be carefully dressed from head to foot. But, after all, the important feature of a man's apparel is his suit.

The man who, in addition to being correct as to hat, shoes and neckwear, wears a is always known by his exceptionally "smart" appearance. Careful dressers all over Canada are now wearing this fine ready-to-wear clothing—in preference to patronizing a high priced custom tailor. They've come to realize that none but the most expensive among the latter can equal the style, fit and finish of this brand of clothing.

20th CENTURY BRAND SUIT,
